

Autumn 2017

Welcome to the first newsletter of Chadsfield Medical Practice. We aim to offer our patients some practice news and some topical health news.

This Years Charities

Every year Chadsfield Medical Practice chooses some charities to fundraise for. We continue this year to sponsor a seizure dog named Robbie. To raise money for our charities we hold a 'dress down Friday' on the last Friday of the month and staff make a donation.

Our other chosen charities are "mums star" and "Reuben's retreat".

Meet the new members of staff.

For our new newsletter we'd like to introduce you to our newest members of staff, GP's Dr James Rangel and Dr Sarah Cam and receptionists, Elizabeth and Paisley.

Dr Rangel.

Dr Rangel qualified as GP in 2015. An IT expert and with interests in teaching and training GPs we are very excited about what he is going to be able to bring to the practice.

Dr Cam

Dr Cam qualified in 2010. She has many interests in medicine including care of the elderly and is particularly looking forward to training our medical students.

Elizabeth Nolan

Elizabeth has spent all her career so far working at Manchester University in the arts and languages department. Elizabeth brings with her very valuable people experience, especially with young people. Elizabeth is delighted to be part of the NHS and is looking forward to learning all aspects of her new role.

Paisley McMahon

Paisley spent the last 4 years working within retail so has lots of customer service skills and now has decided for a different career change. She has joined the practice and is the first person to be completing an apprenticeship within the practice.
